By insolence comes nothing but strife, but with those who take advice is wisdom.

Whoever trusts in his own mind is a fool, but he who walks in wisdom will be delivered.

*Whoever belittles his neighbor lacks sense,
but a man of understanding remains silent.*

C.S. Lewis

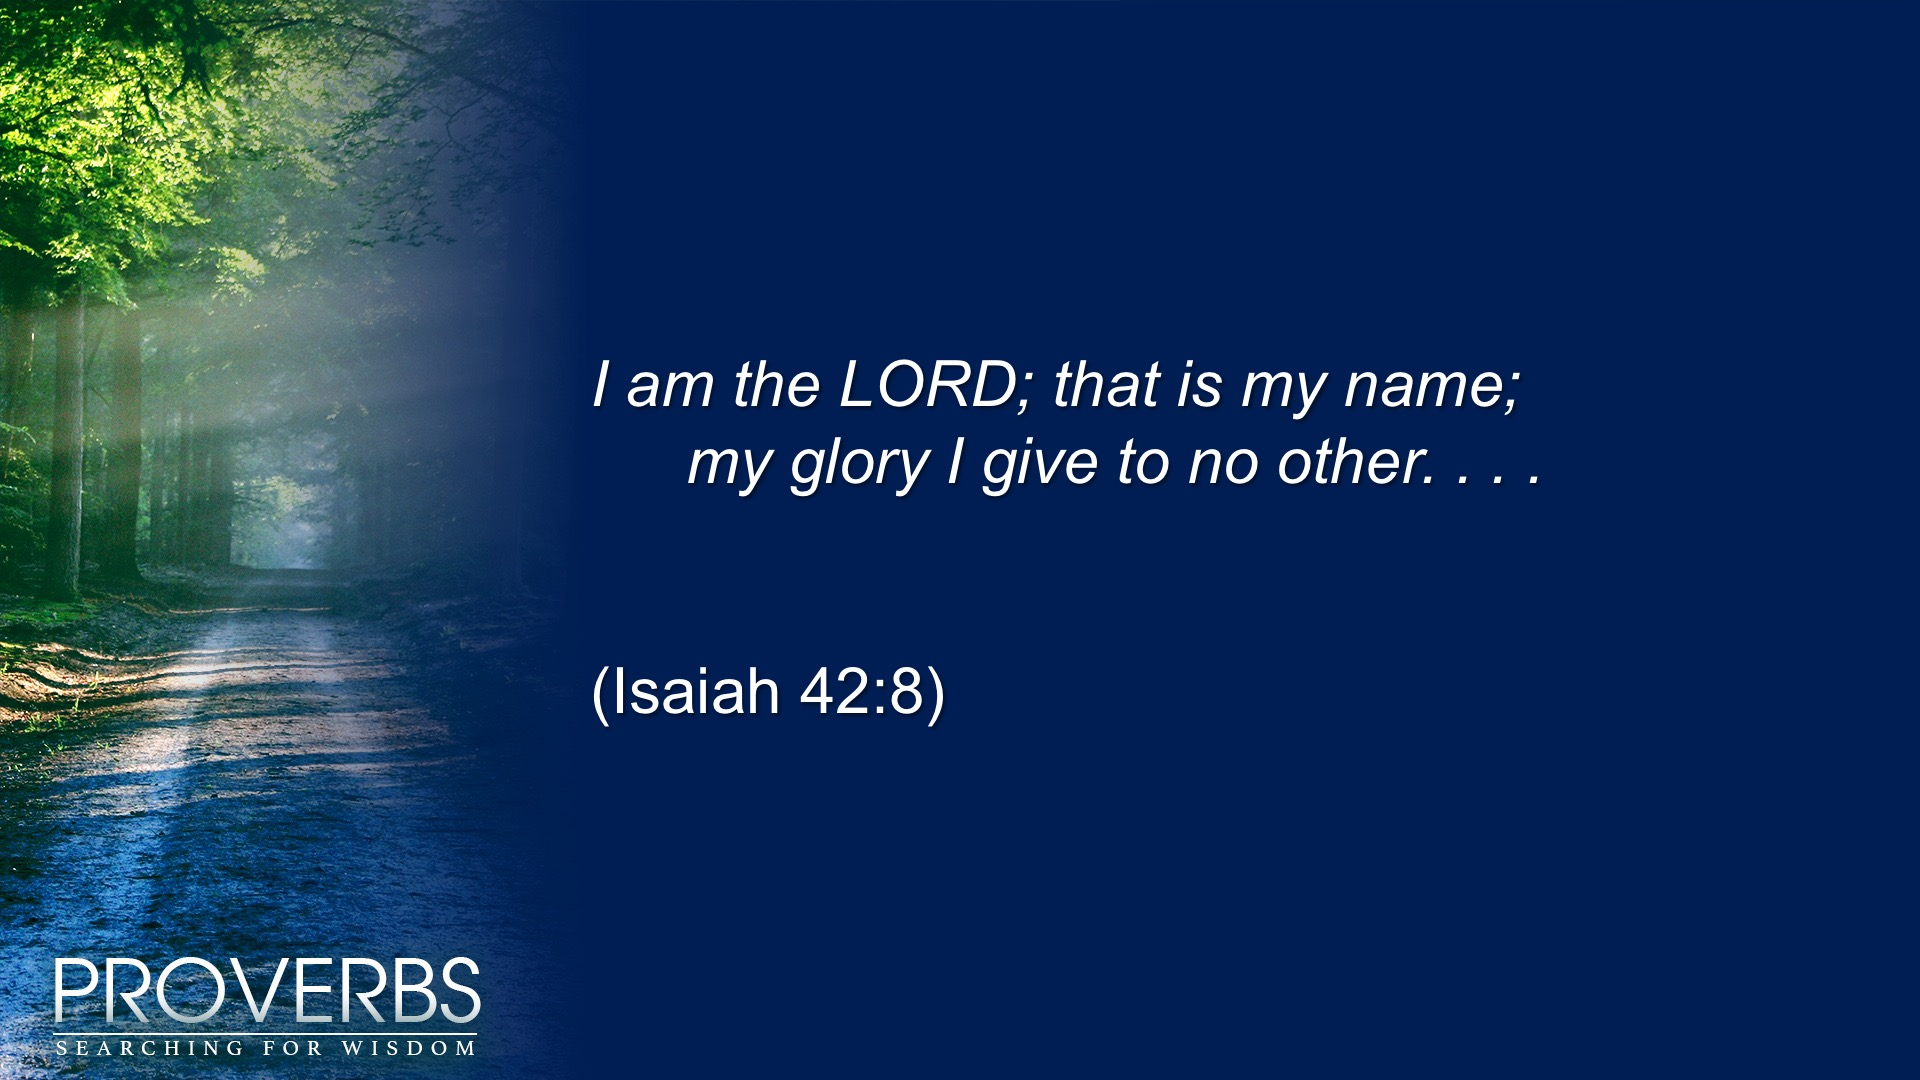

. . . it is Pride which has been the chief cause of misery in every nation and every family since the world began. Other vices may sometimes bring people together: you may find good fellowship and jokes and friendliness among drunken people or unchaste people. But Pride always means enmity – it is enmity. . . .

*Haughty eyes and a proud heart,
the lamp of the wicked, are sin.*

*The LORD tears down the house of the proud
but maintains the widow's boundaries.*

*Pride goes before destruction,
and a haughty spirit before a fall.*

*It is better to be of a lowly spirit with the poor
than to divide the spoil with the proud.*

(16:18, 19)

confess your sins to one another. . . .

Humble yourselves, . . . casting all your anxieties on him, because he cares for you.

Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others.
